96 Points – Huon Hooke - The Real Review 2025 – “Deep, bright red-purple colour, a very promising colour. The bouquet is powerful, laced with smoky reduction and layered with nutty and dark cherry characters. The wine is full and plush on the tongue, with silky tannins, sweet fruit core and an utterly delicious flavour profile. Great balance, length and immediate charm. Gorgeous wine.”

95 Points – Ray Jordan – Wine Pilot 2025 – “A vibrant, high-energy pinot noir displaying excellent varietal character on both the nose and palate. Once again, winemakers have turned to the Coal River and Derwent Valleys of Tasmania for fruit, producing a wine bursting with punchy red berry and cherry notes, spices, and subtle truffle-like characters. The palate is loaded with red fruits, liberally sprinkled with spice, and held tight by fine, chalky acidity. Sustained and very long.”

95 Points – Shanteh Wale – Wine Pilot 2025 – “A spicy concoction of brooding dark berries with little bursts of cherry popping candy that surprise and delight. There are baked plums in syrup with a wash of sturdy tannins, artfully welded into the body of the wine. Oak too is carefully handled, just sidling in, to support the wealth of fruit. Orange and tangerine oils begin to unwind with time swirling in the glass. An exotic and structured wine that would drink well now with veal or equally in 5 years with some venison or game terrines.”

95 Points – Dave Brookes – Halliday Companion March 2026 – “Bright ruby with aromas of red cherry, wild strawberry and raspberry fruits, hints of exotic spice, a curl of struck flint, leaf litter, pomegranate, amaro herbs, roast and dried meats and earth. Lovely, pure, detailed red fruits on the palate, with nicely judged flint and herbal nuance and a flair of spice on the finish as the wine slowly trails off. That '24 vintage is strutting its stuff here.”

94 Points – Tony Love – Wine Pilot 2025 – “Tapping into vineyards across Tasmania, this wine is from the valleys of Coal River and Derwent districts north and northwest of Hobart. Built to a varietal style, darker cherries and kitchen herb aromas plus dark rose before the palate receives some complexity with wooded spice notes that add texture as well as a sweet spot mid-length, a soft, feathery feel in the denouement. It all comes together as a logical and finished expression.”
